Since the death of the game warden the killing of birds in Moberly has increased to such a degree that policeman have taken cognizance of this wanton destruction of the feathered songsters and will hereafter arrest and prosecute all such offenders.

A team belonging to the Carleton stables at Chillicothe and being driven by Photographer Scavenger ran-away, near Norville, Wednesday afternoon. One of the horses plunged into a fence and upset several beehives after freeing itself from its mate. The bees swarmed on the animal and stung it to death.

It looks like the negroes ought to be better Christians than to play baseball on Sunday, but they are not. They are excellent imitators of plain people in this as in some other things. A colored team of Huntsville and another from Salisbury played a match game at Huntsville Sunday, which terminated in a fight that might have resulted fatally f the club used had pounded any other part of the wounded negro's anatomy than his head.

In last week's issue of the Brookfield Budget was the picture of G. W. P. Yount, the oldest citizen of Linn county. Mr. Yount is a native of Tennessee, born ic 1810.
